

OUR STORY & OUR IMPACT

True Vine Mission

Celina, TX • Est. 2026 • 501(c)(3) Nonprofit • Opening February 2027

A faith-based school built on one belief:
every nonspeaking student is fully capable

"Abide in me, and I in you." — John 15:4

WHO WE ARE

About Us & The Need

Bridging the gap between profound cognitive ability and the motor challenges that hide it

ABOUT US

True Vine Mission was founded by three mothers whose sons communicate through the Spellers Method, spelling out words, letter by letter, on a letter board. After watching their own sons go from being assumed incapable to expressing complex, capable thoughts, they set out to build a school where every student starts from that same belief.

Based in North Texas, True Vine bridges the gap between profound cognitive ability and the motor challenges that hide it. By presuming competence and delivering grade-level academics, we replace the low expectations of traditional special education with true restoration.

THE NEED

Across the country, a "silent" crisis exists. Thousands of brilliant nonspeaking students are:

- Marginalized academically
Trapped in repetitive "life-skills" tracks despite high cognitive potential.
- Systemically overlooked
Denied access to grade-level science, history, and literature due to motor challenges.
- Silenced by assumption
Their lack of speech is mistaken for a lack of thought.

OUR MISSION

Unlocking the voices and God-given intellect of nonspeaking students.

Foundation: Built on John 15:4 — restoring dignity to the overlooked.

Launch: Opening February 2027 as a flagship model for faith-based education.

The Spellers Method is to nonspeaking individuals what Braille is to the blind — not a treatment, but an access point that gives them a way to reveal the thinking, intelligence, and voice that were there all along.

OUR MODEL

The Spellers Method

Structured communication approach that empowers non-speaking to spell or type their thoughts independently using letterboards or keyboards.

OUR MODEL: WHOLE CHILD, WHOLE POTENTIAL

The Spellers Method is to nonspeaking individuals what Braille is to the blind

The Speller Method

Our integrated program is rooted in The Spellers Method, addressing every dimension of development: motor, academic, spiritual, and therapeutic.

Our program integrates:

Motor Coaching

Targeted exercises that build the motor pathways necessary for communication and independence.

Ocular Motor Strengthening

Specialized visual therapy to develop the eye tracking and focus needed for reading and learning.

Music Therapy

Evidence-based music therapy that activates neurological pathways for communication and regulation.

Christiaan Bible Study

Faith-rooted discipleship woven into every school day identity in Christ is foundational to everything.

Agriculture Therapy

Encourages confidence and independence while building responsibility through animal care and gardening. Supports sensory regulation in a natural environment

Aquatic Therapy

Water-based therapeutic sessions that support sensory integration, motor development, and joy.

Art Therapy

Develops fine motor skills and hand-eye coordination while supporting emotional regulation in a calm, engaging environment.

Grade-Level Academics

Rooted in the Spellers Method, we deliver real curriculum with real expectations, presuming competence and replacing life-skills ceilings with academic freedom.

Life Skills Training

Hands-on, real-world instruction focused on practical daily living skills. Teaches practical daily living skills for home, school, and community.

WHAT WE'RE BUILDING

Our Model & Its Impact

Every seed of communication plants something that will grow for generations

WHAT THIS SCHOOL WILL PROVIDE

The Sanctuary

A classroom built with sensory-safe architectural design.

The Access

A model built so no capable student is left behind.

The Tools

Motor-planning equipment and specialized therapy spaces.

The Experts

A world-class team of trained communication partners.

WHAT STUDENTS WILL GAIN

Every student who comes through True Vine will gain:

- Communication access — a reliable path to expressing their own thoughts, opinions, and needs, whether through a letter board, keyboard, or another motor-based method suited to them.
- Licensed motor and communication coaching — consistent, trained support from professionals who understand the specific motor-planning challenges nonspeaking and minimally speaking students face.
- A sensory-safe classroom built for their needs — a learning environment designed around sensory regulation from the ground up, not retrofitted as an afterthought.
- A faith-based curriculum and community — grade-level academic instruction rooted in Scripture, delivered by people who presume their competence rather than question it.

Small classes. 1:1 support.

YOUR IMPACT

When you stand with True Vine, you are:

- Restoring dignity — Giving a voice to the silenced, and replacing years of being underestimated with the recognition they deserved all along.
- Bridging the gap — Providing the physical tools, like the Spellers Method, required for communication, so a student's intelligence no longer stays trapped behind a body that struggles to speak it.
- Pioneering a model — Creating a replicable, faith-based blueprint for special education, one that other families and communities can point to and say, "build this here too."
- Investing in a lifetime — Helping fund not just a school year, but a foundation of communication and confidence a student will carry into every relationship and opportunity that follows.

This is not remediation. This is restoration.

OUR FOUNDING STORY

Why Three Mothers Built This

A school born from firsthand experience, not theory

True Vine Mission was founded by three mothers whose sons communicate through the Spellers Method, spelling out words, letter by letter, on a letter board. Each had watched her own son go from being assumed incapable to expressing complex, capable thoughts once given the right access point.

That experience became a conviction: every nonspeaking and minimally speaking student deserves to be presumed competent from day one, not after they've proven it, but as the starting point. True Vine exists to build a school, and eventually a permanent campus, around that conviction.

True Vine exists to build a school, and eventually a permanent campus, around that conviction, a place where presumed competence isn't a slogan on the wall but the operating assumption behind every lesson, every therapy session, every interaction. What started as three mothers' shared refusal to accept less for their sons is becoming a model for how an entire community can choose to see these students differently.
